

Your customers think vertically.

Phones changed how we look.

1

People scroll vertical video all day

Short, upright, fast-moving content is now what eyes expect.

2

Portrait screens fit tight spaces

Pillars, entrances and beside shelves, where landscape won't go.

3

Content can be reused

Your social video can often run on in-store portrait screens too.

Design for three seconds.

One message, big type, movement in the first second. Portrait screens reward the same rules as a good Reel.

Ready to go vertical?

I'll show you where a portrait screen would work in your space.

Book a free review →

Mazhar Elahi

Digital Signage Consultant • 30 years in retail technology

khazinadigital.com • cleverposters.com